The FORECASTS ANNIVERSARIES DI W. D. GANN

W. D. Gann rendered available to the public the forecasts anniversaries for a variety of financial markets including actions and cereals. Its forecasts for the securities market very were known for their precision, and sold for $100 during the great depression in 1930.

Gann primarily hid the bases of its forecasts in great secret, because of their semplicità. If the public had known as these forecasts were made it would not have intentional to pay high prices for they. This short one written will identify the principle base behind the forecasts anniversaries of W. D. Gann. Although there are other considerations that must be held R-on account in order putting to point the forecast, single foundation is one (principle) of base to the approach.

In the introduction to its share market forecast of the 1919 Gann it asserted: "the history is repeated in the securities market like also in the screw of the men."It said also that it based its forecasts anniversaries on: "a factor time that I have uncovered", and that this factor time was the base for its "Master Time Factor".

Exposed simply, Gann went behind ten and vent' years in the financial market that was previewing and used the dates of the points of reversal in those years for its forecast.

The astrological correlation with this period of time is the successive conjunctions and oppositions of the cycle Giove - Saturno, that it happens every ten years.

A copy of the "Share Market forecast for 1922" of Gann is included in Figure C.1. Under its forecast they are the diagrams of a year of the securities market in 1912 and 1902, that they were ten and twenty years before the year that Gann was previewing.

In spite of everything the mystery and the price associate to you with these forecasts and the "Master Time Factor", sure was a simple concept.
